I was wondering if this was the era when they haven't shaved into sakayaki, but already took off their Onboshi

Even if they do wear it, it's like this

They do have this, but drawing them is such a bother

As there aren't many records on this Muromachi era, some have said that there are extreme regional differences and that lots of things just felt unnatural

"This region goes like this!" That way, will the chronology fit?"

was what I thought...

that's how it was done.

GET HIM!
